CARTER'S CREEK.

CARTER'S CREEK, April 2.—Porter Duncan, son of Mr. Starkey Duncan, died March 27, at the home of his aunt, Mrs. A. C. McMen, from the effect of injuries received Tuesday evening. He was riding on a wagon loaded with lumber, and fell to the ground and was run over, the wheel passing entirely over his body. Another bud has been plucked from the bowers of Time, to be transplanted by the dear Master's hand in the paradise of God, there to develop into a beautiful angel, where he will decorate one of the "many mansions" that Jesus has gone to prepare for the faithful. Although his stay on earth was short, it was long enough to cause all who knew him to love him. Now that voice is stilled and life has lost much of its brightness to those who loved him best; but how consoling to them is the thought that their precious boy is safe in the loving Shepherd's tender fold, forever free from the sorrows and temptations of earth. We truly sympathize with them in the loss of their precious child, who was so much of the joy and sunshine of their home; but their loss is his gain. Mr. Duncan, who is a traveling salesman, was in Texas, and did not reach here until Saturday morning. The funeral services were conducted at the house Saturday morning at ten o'clock by Rev. Sney, and the interment was at L. Stung Hope Cemetery.

Our hearts were made and by the death of Mr. Will Blackman, of Theta He was a true Christian, and was liked by every one. To Mrs. Blackman we extend our deepest sympathy.

A PLUCKY MEMPHIS JAILER

Prevents the Lynching of a Rapist.

PISTOL PLACED TO HIS HEAD

And the Surrender of the Negro Demanded, but the Officer Refuses and Turns On Alarm.

Special to the Herald.

MEMPHIS, April 4.—An attempt to lynch John Shaw, a negro convicted of raping a white girl, was frustrated at this place last night by the courage and coolness of Jailer Kelley. Three men obtained admittance into the jail by pretending to be a prisoner with them. Going up to Jailer Kelley, they placed a pistol at his head and demanded that Shaw be turned over to them. The jailer could not be bluffed, however, and he refused to surrender the cell key and then turned on the police alarm. This broke up the men's plans, and the mob that was waiting at Lacy Station to lynch the negro, dispersed.

Shaw will be carried to Nashville for safe-keeping.

PROHIBITION IN KANSAS.

Mrs. Carrie Nation's Work Bears Fruit—Maj. Hughes.

TOPEKA, KAN., April 3.—The municipal elections in Kansas yesterday have been of much more than the usual interest. Mrs. Nation's crusade and the subsequent widespread revival of interest in the enforcement of Prohibition combined to make the city elections the battlefields upon which in a large measure would depend the ultimate fate of the prohibition law. The results seem to show the prohibitory sentiment is still in the ascendancy.

In nearly every case the Republican candidates were law enforcement people and their election can therefore be counted a victory for that element.

Albert Parker, Democrat, was elected Mayor of Topeka over Hughes, Republican, by the small majority of 11 votes. The vote was so close on Mayor that the result was in doubt until the final count was received shortly after 8 o'clock this morning.

The Republicans elected the balance of the ticket with the exception of one councillorman. Hughes ran considerably behind the rest of the ticket on account of a bitter fight at the Republican primaries, many of the Republicans opposed to his nomination voting for Parker at yesterday's election. The bonds securing the new Santa Fe shops were carried by an immense majority.

Col. Hughes has given notice that he will at once institute contest proceedings.

[NOTE.—Col. Hughes, the defeated candidate, is a brother of Col. A. M. Hughes, and formerly lived here.]

Funston's Heroism.

The glorification of Funston for what is at best, with its forgeries, subordination of treachery and Indian cunning, a questionable performance as a part of civilized warfare, is another illustration of the demoralizing effect of militarism. A great inventor like Edison, or a great philanthropist like Carnegie or a great poet of the people, is worth more to a republic than five hundred Funstons or "Fighting Bobs," and will be remembered five hundred years after they are forgotten.

It is easy to go with the crowd and to flatter the people by lauding their "heroes," but it is as wrong to do this as it is to flatter tyrants. The military spirit needs the correction of truth, not the glamour of lies. There is nothing truly heroic or glorious in this whole wretched Filipino business.—New York World.

Horrible Accident.

CROSSVILLE, Tenn., April 2.—A horrible accident occurred in the Crab Orchard Coal & Coke Company's mines, in which Tom Brawley and Alford Arwood lost their lives and Louis Bohannon was perhaps fatally injured. The accident was caused by the breaking of the hoisting clutch.

A loaded car had been drawn from a side entry and was being hauled up an incline of over 40 degrees, when the clutch broke, allowing the car to dash down the incline, traversing a distance of 400 feet with a varying pitch of from 40 to 25 degrees. Arwood and Brawley were working in the bottom of the main shaft and were crushed to death instantly. After some difficulty, the bodies were removed. Arwood's legs were broken and Brawley's head was torn nearly off. Bohannon was working a pump down the main shaft and did not receive the full force of the car.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Senate Passes Bill Creating Office of Entomologist.

Building and Loan Association Bill Causes Much Debate in House.

Special to the Herald.

NASHVILLE, April 3.—The Senate today passed the House bill creating the office of State Entomologist and protecting nurseries against the San Jose scale.

After much debate the House passed the bill requiring building and loan associations to issue semi-annual sworn statements.

Special to the Herald.

NASHVILLE, April 3.—The Estes fee bill to regulate the compensation of the county officials came up in the House as a special order. The author offered a substitute to make the bill apply to only the four largest counties in the State, and to fix the salaries of the officials at $4,000 per annum. He made a speech in favor of his bill, and was followed by Mr. Fahey, who opposed it. The vote was taken and resulted as follows: Ayes 37, nays 46.

Redistricting Bill.

At the afternoon session the redistricting bill came up as a special order. There were a number of amendments offered on both sides of the House, but every one went to the table. The strict party Democrats tried several times to shut them off by calling for the previous question, but they could not command the necessary two-thirds vote.

Mr. Peay, in making the call for the previous question, said that as soon as he had looked at this bill he saw that it was conceived in sin and born in iniquity. The party had indulged it, however, and he would support it.

Despite all the protests from the Republicans and a few Democrats, the bill passed by a strict party vote. One Democrat voted against it, and three refused to vote.

Quiet in the Senate.

The day was the quietest day in the Senate since the recess. The road law was called up, but was made a special order for Thursday at 11 o'clock.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 4.—In the routine-grind of the Senate yesterday a bill was read out which provided for the repeal of the Jarvis law in all counties under 30,000 inhabitants. It was only necessary to state that the bill was an assault on the Jarvis law and the Senators sat down on it very promptly and very forcibly.

The Senate has on previous occasions shown its unwillingness to tamper with the Jarvis law, and the action yesterday showed plainly that the upper branch will stand as a big stumbling block to the House in the attempts of the latter to tear a hole in Tennessee's great reform measure.

Some of the Results of the Municipal Elections Held in Various States and Territories.

ST. LOUIS CAPTURED BY DEMOCRATS.

Carter Harrison, For the Third Time, Chosen Mayor of Chicago—The City Council, However, Has a Republican Majority of Ten—The Contests Elsewhere.

St. Louis, April 4.—Elections were held Tuesday in many states, including Missouri, Illinois, Arkansas, Kansas, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Minnesota, Texas and Colorado.

MISSOURI.

In St. Louis, with one precinct missing, the count gives Wells (dem.), for mayor, 44,021; Parker (rep.), 34,846; Meriwether (public ownership), 30,508; Filley (good government), 2,068. The entire democratic city ticket is returned by approximately the same plurality. The president and six new members of the city council are returned by similar democratic pluralities, and the house of delegates will stand: Democrats, 13; republicans, 12; public ownership, 3. The proposition to increase the library tax from one-fifth to two-fifths of a mill, necessary to comply with the terms of the Carnegie gift of $1,000,000, was carried by a vote of 70,812 for to 9,768 against.

In Missouri, outside of St. Louis, not much interest was manifested in the municipal elections, the vote was light and relative showing of the two parties little changed from the November election.

ILLINOIS.

Chicago, April 4.—Carter H. Harrison has been elected mayor of Chicago for the third time, and will next week commence his third term as the chief executive of the city. His official plurality over Judge Elbridge Haney, the republican nominee, is in the neighborhood of 28,500 votes.

The total vote of the city, with a few precincts to hear from, is: Harrison, 153,275; Haney, 127,202; Harrison's plurality, 28,073.

Out of the 35 wards of the city, Harrison carried 36 and Haney nine. The vote was badly split, some of the strongest republican parts of the city giving only a small plurality for the party nominee, and some of them going for Harrison, who, however, suffered in some of the democratic strongholds.

The new city council, which probably will be called upon to decide the question of the extension of the street railway franchises and other public grants worth many millions, is republican by a majority of ten votes. As a result of Tuesday's election the council will be made up of 29 republicans, 29 democrats, 2 independent republicans and 2 independent democrats. This makes a total of 72, or two more than are provided for by law, the tangle being caused by the recent ward redistricting and the consequent shifting of two holdover aldermen in the Second and Twenty-first wards. The new council and the courts will be called upon to decide the problem.

According to leaders of both parties, the council probably will be organized on non-partisan lines. This will be in accordance with the policy of Mayor Harrison and of the Municipal Voters' league, a non-partisan organization which has been prominent in recent local campaigns.

Gold for Europe.

MERCY HOSPITAL CLOSED.

Nuns Ordered to Leave by Bishop Eis—Result of a Scandal at Iron Mountain, Mich.

Iron Mountain, Mich., April 4.—Mercy hospital, better known here as Emergency hospital, has closed its doors by order of Bishop Eis, and the nuns have been ordered to leave the diocese. This is the result of an ecclesiastical scandal, which occurred last January, when Ellen Hogan, a novice in the hospital, was arrested on an insanity charge preferred by the mother superior. Miss Hogan was adjudged sane by the probate court. The mother superior also charged her with theft. After being released from custody, by order of Judge Bergeron, Miss Hogan made severe charges against the mother superior, one of which was drunkenness. An investigation by Bishop Eis resulted in the order to close the institution.

BOTH PROVED POOR SHOTS.

Two Lawyers, in Court at Kingston, Tenn., Let Loose Their Guns, But Without Effect.

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 4.—During a session of the court at Kingston, Hon. Sam. A. Brazzale and Hon. James J. Littleton, prominent attorneys and leading republican politicians in the Second congressional district, quarreled over a speech which Littleton made against Brazzale, who is running for mayor of Kingston, and each drew a revolver and began firing. None of the shots took effect. They were separated by bystanders and both placed under arrest.

OLD LI IS IN DISFAVOR.

He Is Said to Have Left Peking for Shanghai Under an Imperial Cloud.

HE HAS FAVORED RUSSIA TOO ACTIVELY.

If the Present Understanding is Correct It Is Believed that an Effectual Check Has Been Administered to Russia in Her Designs Upon Manchuria.

Washington, April 4.—Although no official notice has reached here of the reported departure of Prince Li Hung Chang from Peking for Shanghai, the officials are inclined to believe it is true that Li Hung Chang is really leaving Peking for good, and because the emperor is displeased with his conduct of the negotiations. It was known here that when Li Hung Chang was made one of the peace envoys that he was pro-Russian in sentiment, but there was no cause for complaint on that score until the Manchurian agreement came up for consideration. Now it is believed by officials here that Li has proved so earnest an advocate of the Russian cause, and has so strenuously worked for the signature of the agreement that his own government has felt obliged to deprive him of power to further that agreement. If this understanding is correct it is believed that an effectual check has been administered to Russia in her designs upon Manchuria, for it is thought the emperor of China would scarcely have acted in this summary fashion had he not received assurances of support from some of the other powers.

Mr. Rockhill has not yet acquainted the government with the exact language of the agreement reported to have been reached at Peking as to the Chinese forts, but taking the press accounts of the ministerial meeting as accurate, it is gathered that Secretary Hay's views have formed the basis of the agreement. The original proposition, strongly backed by most of the European powers, was to completely destroy the Chinese forts in the gulf of Pe-Chi-Li, and on the road from Faku to Peking. The state department felt that it would be inexpedient to proceed so far and leave China naked to the attack of the meanest foe. Therefore, the powers were urged to content themselves with the simple dismantlement of the forts, leaving them in condition to be again mounted with guns in a reasonable time. It is believed here that this project has been accepted, for it appears, from the language of the press dispatches, that the only forts ordered to be "destroyed," is one on a point in the Pei river, which is to be removed simply because it forms an obstacle to navigation.

SUMATRA LEAF.

Connecticut Tobacco Growers Entering Upon Its Culture.

Dealers in tobacco leaf have as an interesting bit of speculation just now the possibility of growing Sumatra tobacco in the Connecticut river district, where for several years past a lot of Havana wrappers have been raised, says the New York Times. Sumatra tobacco has never been grown with any marked degree of success in this country save in one district in Florida. In the extreme northwestern part of the state, in and about Gadsden county, there has been a rather successful production of that leaf, but that has been practically controlled by one firm of manufacturers having headquarters in this city. The bulk of the Sumatra tobacco used here for cigar wrappers is just what it has pretended to be. Last season, under government supervision, tobacco from the Sumatra seed was grown in Connecticut on quite a stretch of territory. It was raised under cover, the simulation of the conditions of the torrid zone being attained by the use of cotton sheeting rigged on poles and making a long tent about six feet in height. Artificial irrigation, constant attention and the quality of the soil in the location experimented on, resulted in the obtaining of a leaf that at least looked well, and, so far as handlers can tell now, promises to make a fair substitute for the Sumatra leaf. How well it will stand the test cannot be told until the leaf has been made up into cigars and subjected to the only actual test—smoking. So well satisfied is one large tobacco grower in the district, Arnet Mitchellson of Tariffville, that he has announced that he is going into the experiment of raising the Sumatra leaf on a large scale. Experts have decided that he has the right soil in one of his fields. So he has placed an order for 15,000 yards of the strongest sort of cotton cloth from which the protecting tents will be constructed. Under the tents several acres of plants will be set when the weather permits, and a serious attempt will be made to see how the experiment will turn out from a practical point. Dealers here have little faith in a successful result, as there are so many natural conditions operating against the grower, though they would be pleased to have success crown his efforts. That would open a new and a possibly cheaper source of supply for the sort of leaf most cigar makers must have in order to supply light-colored cigars.

Collecting Bug Recreations.

Bug recreations are being brought into a special collection by the British Museum. It has now moths with male wings on one side and female wings on the other, butterflies with no forewings, and insects with an abnormal number of antennae or of legs.
